Early Morning Blaze Damages Car and Garage

Fire early this morning gutted a sedan and damaged a garage in Pine Grove along Adams Hollow Creek.

The car is owned by William Harbison, while the garage in which the car was housed is owned by Joseph Dunn.

The flames were discovered at about 1:30 this morning by Mrs. Dunn, who was aroused by the reflection of the flames as they shot upward into the air.

Consolidated Fire Department was called and by quick and efficient work soon extinguished what had the appearance of quite a fire.

Chief McGee is of the opinion that the fire originated in the automobile which was placed in the garage at nine o'clock, last night.

The loss is estimated by Chief McGee at about $150 on the car and $300 on the garage.

CLASH INEVITABLE AT LEGISLATIVE SESSION

Repetition of Previous Encounter Believed To Be Almost Assured

SUBJECT, CONFIRMATION

By Joseph A. Loftus

(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

HARRISBURG, Sept. 25.—(INS)—

Repetition of the clash between Gov. Gifford Pinchot and the Republican organization over Public Service Commission control appears inevitable as a political sidelight of the special legislative session scheduled for November.

Though the Governor need not include the subject of confirmations in his proclamation for the session, the question will arise when he sends to the Senate a list of five commissioners for ratification.

General opinion appears to be that the Senate this time will take a definite stand—voting either rejection or confirmation—instead of completely ignoring the executive nominations as it did in recent sessions.

The Republican organization, which dominates the Senate, faces a question of placing the Public Service Commission out of its reach for five years by confirming the Pinchot appointees, or risking a political clash of complex proportions by rejecting them.

The alternative of continuing to ignore the nominations may be the course the Senate again will take, although many observers contend that that course is no longer open.

In the Dr. Clyde L. King case, the State Supreme Court said in part:

"The Senate has the power to veto an appointment, but, if made when the Senate is not in session, the Senate must act on the appointment when convened or the right to the office ceases with the adjournment of the Senate."

It was on this clause that Governor Pinchot won his fight with Dr. King. The Commission chairman was not confirmed and the Governor did not reappoint him.

While the Supreme Court declared the Senate "must act," the decree appears not to be absolute. It added what the effect of failure to act would be, thus giving the intimation that the Senate still had a right to the alternative of ignoring executive nominations and allowing the appointments to expire with adjournment of the Assembly.

Governor Pinchot's commission appointees and the years when their terms will expire, if confirmed, are: C. Jay Goodnough, chairman, 1943; P. S. Stahlnecker, 1942; George W. Woodruff, 1941; Frederick P. Gruenberg, 1940; Herman J. Goldberg, 1937.

Confirmation of all five appointees by the Senate would make the commission, theoretically, Pinchot-controlled not only throughout the entire next state administration but also during the first part of the second administration after Pinchot leaves office.

The Governor's battle with the Senate and the Republican organization over the Commission control had its beginning during the 1931 special session when he dispatched the names of Judge Woodruff and Frederick Gruenberg for confirmation.

The Senate ignored the nominations and when it adjourned Pinchot reappointed them. Later, Pinchot gained control of the Commission through the resignations of W. D. B. Ainey and Emerson Collins, and the expiration of J. W. Brown's term. The successors of these three were named and presented to the 1933 regular session along with Woodruff and Gruenberg.

All five are still unconfirmed, and the question of whether they will go out with the Pinchot administration or remain to complete ten-year terms rests with the Senate. All five, or any of them, of course, might see themselves removed before Governor Pinchot's administration ends. That would be the effect if the Senate decided to reject their nominations.

Then might arise the question of whether the Governor had the right to reappoint the same men. It is theoretically possible after Senate adjournment. Perhaps it would even make another Supreme Court case.

S. Ray Shelby and Samuel Walker are the only Public Service Commissioners with confirmed appointments.

CALIFORNIA SOON TO OPEN STATE PRISON FOR WOMEN IN THE PEACEFUL TEHACHAPI VALLEY; IS PROGRESSIVE EXPERIMENT; NO BARRED WINDOWS

Has School Where Training
Will Be Given in Gainful Occupations

ATTRACTIVE ROOMS

Private Rooms are Finished in Pastel Shades With Gay Curtains

By Sally Frank

(Special Correspondent I. N. S.)

TEHACHAPI, Cal., Sept. 25.—(INS)—In a peaceful, secluded little valley, nestling atop the Tehachapi Divide, the great State of California has launched one of the most progressive experiments in the history of penology.

It is the new $500,000 state prison for women, located on the former 1600-acre ranch in the Cummings Valley, 11 miles from the town of Tehachapi.

No gray, dismal stone walls meet your vision as you round the curve of a perfect circle of hills and glimpse, through a single break, the sunny little valley enclosed therein.

No iron-barred windows frown down. No forbidding guards stand sentry in machine-gun manned towers.

The four imposing, Norman-French buildings of re-inforced concrete, with their red slate roofs might fittingly house a fashionable girls' school or a charming rest home and health center.

And in a sense they do. For those buildings house a prison—yes.

But they also house a school where proper training in gainful occupations is to be given and a health unit where proper mental and psychological adjustments made, that will change the inmates from menaces into useful citizens, when they have paid their debt to society.

Twenty-eight women are ready now to vouch for the ultimate success of this notable experiment. They are the first contingent of women prisoners to arrive there, transferred from San Quentin.

They are serving time for every known crime—murder, forgery, theft, robbery. Some have long terms ahead of them. Others will be paroled soon.

In this first group are three murder-prisoners—Trinity Dandia, oldest woman prisoner at San Quentin in point of time served; Bernice Foley, San Francisco "baby slayer"; and Eleanor Judson, of Los Angeles imprisoned May 1 of this year.

Clara Phillips, Los Angeles "hammer murderer"; Louise L. Peets, another Los Angeles slayer, Erna Janoschek, Oakland nursemaid-slayer and the rest of the 145 women convicts will be transferred within the next few weeks.

And what a surprise they have in store for them!

Instead of cells, each will have a separate little room, with pastel colored walls, gay cretonne curtains and boasting a single bed, a lowboy and a rocking chair.

In the two honor cottages, housing 32 women each, and the administration and industrial building there are no barred windows.

Each building has its own kitchen, dining-room and sitting room. A recreation yard more than an acre square has a croquet court and tennis court. Baseball and basketball also will be provided for later.

WILL CONFER TODAY ON PROBING MILK SITUATION

Senator Buckman and Milk
Distributors to Meet in Philadelphia

PROTESTERS TO GATHER

State Senator Clarence J. Buckman, chairman of the Joint Legislative Committee to investigate the milk situation, will confer in Philadelphia today with attorneys for the large distributors.

With Charles Klein, Special Deputy Attorney General, assigned to represent the producers, Buckman will attempt to reach an understanding with the distributors' spokesmen with regard to obtaining data on profits, and the appearance of officers of the big milk companies.

The committee has the power to subpoena persons, books and records, Buckman explained yesterday, but the conference is being held in order to save the committee's time and get the distributors to produce voluntarily the facts and figures desired.

Friday has been fixed tentatively as the first day of the hearing to be held by the State probers.

Meanwhile, a meeting of the executive group of the Milk Code Protest Committee with its counsel, Charles Edwin Fox and Francis B. Biddle, is scheduled here tomorrow.

This group, which took a leading part in laying the farmers' case before Federal investigators at recent hearings on the Philadelphia Milk Marketing Agreement, is organizing a new farmers' co-operative marketing agency to compete with the Interstate Milk Producers' Association.

On Friday evenings in the Harriman M. E. Church, R. Arnold Newman will conduct a class of instruction for teachers and officers of the school. At these classes the Sunday School lesson for the following Sunday will be taken up for discussion and consideration.

Historic Pilgrimage Is Made By Pupils From Andalusia

ANDALUSIA, Sept. 25.—Miss Rae Komenarski, fourth grade teacher in Andalusia public school, took 23 pupils on a historical pilgrimage and educational trip to Philadelphia, last week.

At an ice cream manufacturing plant they saw the industry from the mixing of the cream and sugar to the finished product, the storing and loading of the ice cream on trucks for distribution, the making of popples, the filling of cups and making of fancy cuts. They observed the making of caramel, chopping of almonds preparatory to being used in ice cream.

The guides showed the advertising department, then led the pupils to the auditorium where they were entertained with moving pictures showing the places and how the different products used for ice cream are grown, such as sugar cane, coffee, vanilla, chocolate, oranges and lemons, also the processes involved in the manufacture of ice cream. The group was then treated to ice cream.

After enjoying lunch the party went on a historical pilgrimage, visiting the following sacred shrines of American History: Independence Hall, Customs House, Carpenters Hall, Christ Church, Betsy Ross House, and Franklin's Grave.

Newly-Weds Are Guests Of Honor At A Shower Here

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Ford, Jackson street, who were recently married, were entertained Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. Ford's mother, Mrs. Anna Ricketts, Jackson street. The guests attended a surprise shower to Mr. and Mrs. Ford.

Refreshments were served to: Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sommerfeld, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Gilbert and daughter Lily, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Ford, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ford, Mrs. S. J. Sommerfeld, Mrs. Anna Ricketts, Bristol; Mrs. L. K. Miller and Mr. and Mrs. William VanSled, and Mrs. Chadwick and daughter Esther, Trenton, N. J.; Mrs. Carrie Sommerfeld, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Sommerfeld, Andalusia; Mr. and Mrs. George Sommerfeld and Ralph Copeland, Philadelphia; Axel Sommerfeld, South River, N. J.

Fete Miss Ethel Keers On Her Sixteenth Birthday

Miss Ethel Keers, 1528 Trenton avenue, celebrated her 16th birthday Saturday evening.

A delightful evening was spent playing games, singing and dancing. The living room was decorated with pink and gray crepe paper and balloons. Refreshments were served in the dining room and a large bouquet of pink roses formed the centerpiece.

Favors were pink horns and fancy baskets of candy. Miss Keers received many gifts.

Those attending: Eleanor Dyer, Katherine Wicks, Nellie Panek, Mary and Josephine Campbell, Harley Davis, J. MacBlaine, J. Orr, Michael Petrick, Barbara Lynch, Violet and Ethel Keers, Lorraine Appleton, Kenneth Dyer, Vincent Cox, Lamont White.

TENNIS TOURNAMENTS
COME TO SUCCESSFUL END

Lawrence-Fine Win Doubles;
Mrs. Eastburn Captures
Singles

INTERESTING MATCHES

The final doubles match in the Municipal Tennis Tournament, was played yesterday on the Elks' Court, between Lawrence-Fine and Pearson-Pearson. "Herb" Lawrence was the winner in the singles tournament this year and Franklin Fine was the runner-up. Samuel Pearson a few years ago held the championship in singles, and his cousin, "Bud" Pearson has been one of the Elks' tennis stars for several years.

The match was hotly contested from the start to the finish. It soon became apparent, however, that the training which the younger men had obtained in the various tournaments in which they had participated this summer, gave them the advantage over their older opponents, and it was not a surprise when they won 6-2; 6-3; 6-1.

The tournament, this year, has greatly revived the interest in tennis and all signs point to the appearance of many new faces on the tennis courts next year. The rapidity and smoothness which have been outstanding characteristics of the tournament, have been commented upon favorably by those interested, and inspire confidence in the hope that a larger tournament can be run successfully next year.

It is conceded by all that Herbert Lawrence has been the outstanding figure in the tournament this year.

COUPLE ARE UNITED IN MARRIAGE AT ST. ANN'S

Paul Vulpes, Philadelphia,
Takes Miss Lucy Maggio
As His Wife

NOW IN NEW YORK CITY

St. Ann's Catholic Church, Dorrance and Pond streets, was the scene of a wedding yesterday afternoon at three o'clock, when Miss Lucy Maggio, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lorenzo Maggio, 511 Jefferson avenue, became the bride of Paul Vulpes, son of Mrs. Raffaela Vulpes, Philadelphia. Rev. Father Marcellini Romagnolo, rector, officiated; and Miss Frances Tamburilla, organist, played the wedding march.

The bride was attended by Miss Mabel Monochi, 1025 Wood street, as maid of honor; Miss Theresa Amadio, 327 Washington street, as bridesmaid; Caroline Spinozzolo, Brooklyn, N. Y., and Gloria Lombardo, Jefferson avenue, as flower girls. The best man was Vincent Zaffreno, Yonkers, N. Y.; and the ring-bearer Joseph Indelicato, Jefferson avenue.

The bride wore a white transparent chiffon velvet dress, with train. It was form-fitting with a slight flare at the bottom, and the long sleeves were made with circular puffs. She wore white slippers, veil of French tulle, and cap caught with orange blossoms and pearls. Her bouquet was a shower of white roses, carnations and valley lilies.

Miss Monochi and Miss Amadio wore gowns fashioned of taffeta on long close fitting lines. Miss Monochi wore pale pink trimmed with a blue taffeta riddle, blue taffeta turban, moire slippers and mesh gloves to match. She carried a bouquet of pink roses and carnations. Miss Amadio wore blue taffeta with pink accessories and carried a bouquet of pink roses and carnations.

The flower girls were garbed alike, in dresses of pink taffeta made with round neckline, short puffed sleeves and ruffles on the skirts. They wore pink ribbons on their hair and carried bouquets of pink carnations and roses.

The ring-bearer was attired in a black tuxedo suit, and carried the wedding ring on a heart-shaped satin pillow.

A reception was held in Mutual Aid Hall with about 300 attending. An orchestra furnished music.

The couple left for a week's honeymoon in New York City. They will reside at the home of the groom in Philadelphia. Mrs. Vulpes travelled in a black satin dress trimmed with white, and wore accessories to match.

Millions Shift to 'blue coal' In Two Short Years!

Tired of Substitute Fuels—weary of extravagant claims, home owners return to hard coal as the safest, most dependable fuel

COUNTLESS home owners—won over by promises of greater convenience and economy—have experimented with substitute fuels. But they have been bitterly disappointed at the failure of these so-called "bargain fuels" to live up to the claims made for them. That's why millions have changed to 'blue coal' in two years.

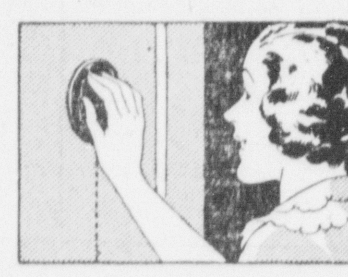

Why not profit by their experience? Why risk your good money on fuels of a dubious nature? Why take chances with fuel that flashes up so fast one time that it burns out the grates—and burns so slowly at another that it cannot comfortably heat your home?

Why depend on fuel requiring mechanical firing devices which are liable to break down when you need heat most? Why gamble on any substitute fuel when you can be sure of clean, even, dependable heat with 'blue coal'—and save money besides.

High-grade anthracite has been the favorite fuel of thrifty home owners for generations. 'blue coal' is the cream of American Anthracite. Mined from the richest seams of the Northern Pennsylvania anthracite fields. Carefully prepared, washed and re-washed in torrents of rushing water and critically inspected! And now—as your guarantee of top quality—it is colored a distinctive Blue.

'blue coal' gives quick, sure heat on zero mornings—gives steady, cozy, healthful heat all day long—banks perfectly at night. Don't be "ballyhooped" when buying fuel. Insist on 'blue coal'—and get fine, dependable anthracite every time you order. Phone your 'blue coal' dealer today.

NOW AUTOMATIC HEAT FOR ONLY $18.95

With the 'blue coal' Heat Regulator you can control your furnace automatically from upstairs and maintain an even, healthful temperature day and night. It can be attached to your heating plant for only $18.95, plus a small installation charge. Ask your 'blue coal' dealer for details.

BRISTOL TROJANS BATTLE BUSTLETON TO 0-0 TIE

Giving football fans what was promised, the Bristol Trojans battled to a scoreless tie yesterday afternoon. More than 1200 fans held their breath during the last 20 second play when Marvin Collins made a placement kick that fell short of the bar by a foot. Two more pounds of beef behind that toe and Bustleton would have walked from the field victor by a 3-0 count.

Braving the hot sun which was making a better day for baseball than for football, the Trojans fought valiantly over the turf and gave fans a thrill. Evenly matched in weight and build the twenty-two knights of the gridiron battled back and forth for four straight periods without a score.

Though no marker was tallied, Dougherty, saw in his team much improvement over their game last Sunday and announced that he is well satisfied. With the addition of Dean the backfield began to click in great style and completed two forward passes that gained much yardage. Both passes were made from Dean to Lake.

Throughout the game the Trojans showed a wonderful defense with every man on the line doing his part. Davis, Conn, Kutzer and Ludwig made the outstanding defensive plays while Mellor, Crossley and Dean made several spectacular line gains.

Next Saturday afternoon the Trojans will meet the Frankford A. A. at the American Legion field in Philadelphia. Playing against strength such as this will show the Trojan mettle and many fans from this section will journey to Frankford to see the fray.

The line-up:

Huntingdon, Sept. 25—Sunday sports in Pennsylvania, a legislative bug-bear for more than a century, faced a gauntlet of great litigation today. Challenging the constitutionality of the act which made Sabbath baseball and football almost a certainty after next November 7th, officers of the Huntingdon County Sunday School Association filed an appeal in Equity here demanding an injunction to restrain county commissioners from printing and distributing ballots to determine the will of the electorate in the issue.

SONS OF ITALY BOCCIE PLAYERS GET 3RD PLACE

Close to 100 fans of the Italian colony were present at the Bristol Sons of Italy bocce allies yesterday as the Bristol organization met the bocce teams of the Italian-American Bocce League. Bristol is one of the 16 teams of the circuit.

So close was the competition that playing started in the afternoon and finished in the early hours of the morning. The Bristol Sons of Italy team gave their opponents plenty of opposition and managed to place in third position. First place went to the Northeast Lodge of Sons of Italy of Philadelphia and second honors were captured by the Forty-fourth Ward of Philadelphia.

Every Sunday when the local organization meets opponents from the league a large crowd packs the seats of the allies and enjoys the Italian game. The Bristol organization has installed arc lights and games are played at night.

ERRORS OF OMISSION CAUSE ALL-STARS' DEFEAT

Errors of omission in the eighth inning by the Twilight League All-Stars gave the Lower Bucks County League All-Stars a 3 to 2 victory over the senior circuit yesterday afternoon on St. Ann's field.

Close to 1700 fans witnessed the close match and were amazed at the fielding skill of the youngsters of the Twilight League. The Bristol Leaguers outplayed their rivals from the Bucks loop and only the bad breaks in the eighth marred the wonderful fielding of the losers.

On the other hand, the Bucks Countians were over-confident and after the first few innings realized that they were getting stiff opposition. Both clubs made seven hits, the Lower Bucks hits came in the second, seventh and eighth innings. The Twilight League hits were scattered.

Croydon Man Dies After An Illness of 3 Years' Duration

CROYDON, Sept. 25—Albert H. Beale, well known Croydon resident, and husband of Anna Beale, (nee Fisher) was claimed by death yesterday at his home, State Road and Paterson avenue, after an illness of three years. He had been a resident of Croydon for the past 15 years.

The deceased is survived by his widow; a son, Elwood C. Beale, Philadelphia; a daughter, Mrs. George Moll, of Bealewood; and a brother, Harry A. Beale, Philadelphia.

Funeral services will be held on Wednesday, from his late residence at two p. m., and relatives and friends, as well as all organizations with which he was affiliated, are invited to attend. Interment will be in Northwood Cemetery, Philadelphia, under direction of the H. S. Rue Estate The Rev. Howard L. Zepp, pastor of First Baptist Church, Bristol, will officiate. Friends may call Tuesday evening.

Another Triumph at Grand For Harlow and Gable

Jean Harlow and Clark Gable are teamed again in "Hold Your Man," which opens tonight at the Grand Theatre, following in the wake of their smashing success in "Red Dust."

As the cheap little drifter who goes to prison for the man she loves, Miss Harlow endows her characterization with a wistful sympathy and humor. Particularly in the incident in which she awakens to approaching motherhood is she effective. Gable banters his way through the early part of the picture with delightful nonchalance which sharply contrasts his important work in the climactic sequences when he risks arrest on a murder charge to give a name to the unborn child.

Ford Motor Production At High Level This Month

Production of Ford cars and trucks in September has been scheduled at the same high daily rate as in August. It was announced at the offices of the Ford Motor Company, Detroit. This situation, it was said, is unprecedented. August production was the greatest for the year to date.

August retail deliveries of Ford cars and trucks reached the greatest volume for the year thus far, and were 41% greater than August 1932, indicating the rising volume of Ford sales during a time when usually sales volume registers a decline.

The retail sales volume of Ford passenger cars in August was the largest since June 1932 and the retail sales of Ford trucks the greatest since October 1931.

Daily sales volume in August is being maintained in September, it was said, on the basis of reports of sales by dealers for the first six business days in the month.

A TENNIS TALE

Bald of pate
And short of win'
Legs half buckled
Back caved in.
Ask them if They're feeling right,
They'll tell you they're Men of might.
Eyes quite bleary
Double sight
They should play
Their games at night.

Game is on
See them cavort
Puffing, panting,
'Cross the court
Slashing, smashing,
Naught but air
They mean alright
But the steam
Ain't there.

Tennis Tournaments Come To Successful End

His service, his cannonball drives, his net game, together with his poise and steadiness, made him superior to any other contestant.

Following the men's doubles match the final singles match in the the women's tournament was played between Mrs. Mollie Eastburn and Miss Louise Lawrence. These two women had fought their way upward through the two brackets, until they faced each other in the finals for the championship of Bristol.

In the first set Miss Lawrence showed her opponent no mercy and won 6-0. It looked exceedingly bad for Mrs. Eastburn, but in the second set she staged a rally that practically swept Miss Lawrence off her feet, and won 6-1. In the last set Mrs. Eastburn had everything her own way and won easily, 6-1.

The women who have been interested are exceedingly pleased with the success of their tournament. They are all looking forward to next year when they contemplate holding a larger tournament. They feel deeply indebted to the Elks' Tennis Club for permitting them to use their courts, and to express their thanks.

SCRANTON—Miss Frances G. Woodworth, pretty stenographer employed by Joseph Corner, part owner of a Wilkes-Barre Furniture Company which is in equity receivership, testified she loaned Corner $1,000 towards $18,350 he raised to buy back the furniture concern at a receivers' sale more than a year ago.

California Soon to Open State Prison for Women in The Peaceful Tehachapi Valley

In the industrial building, a complete domestic science course, sewing, laundry and other trades will be taught while those who prefer may turn "farmerette" and learn gardening, poultry-raising, and truck-gardening on the broad acres of "the ranch."

Presiding genius of the new institution is acting warden U. A. Smith, assisted by Miss Jane Jackson, head matron at San Quentin for 17 years.

Each is in entire sympathy with the new experiment which they are bringing into being and with their attitude and that of the women themselves, the experiment cannot fail.
